To Our Madam or Sir:

Information is a good thing for consumers to have concerning the food they are buying. It helps make choices clearer.

Please label if foods are irradiated. It's the least you can do. The best you can do is not allow irradiated food. It's ugly. But if that is that (irradiation) then please tell us. It's important to be up front and honest with the people you're in the business of protecting.

We are smart enough to make good choices about the food we eat. We just need the truth.

Thank You. Tammy Valentine
